

FYI: We might want to explore doing this instead of trying to go in with The Center for Hope board to do the art/craft fundraiser. That way, we could spread things out and still do the Christmas Mercantile Craft Faire in November. We would not have to haul anywhere near as much stuff as the last Community Yard Sale we did a few months back and there is such a high volume of foot traffic at these public yard sales...Something to pray about. I wish we could've spread things out over the whole year more evenly, but between a couple of us being gimpy and some of these events are set by outside people, we will just roll with God's timing and trust Him to provide who and what's needed to make things FLY! Blessings, Monica (for Gerry and I). Note the date of this is in mid-September. You have to click on the attachment at the bottom to preview the actual date.
